Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
3. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.
4. Group I, claim(s) 1-7, 17-27, and 38-41, drawn to a diffusion barrier alloy film of ReW.
5. Group II, claim(s) 8, 9, 13-16, 28, 32, 36, and 37, drawn to method of forming diffusion barrier alloy film of ReW by plating and heat treatment.
6. Group III, claim(s) 10, 29, and 33, drawn to method of forming diffusion barrier alloy film of ReW by fused salt plating without heat treatment.
7. Group IV, claim(s) 11, 12, 30, 31, 34, and 35, drawn to method of forming diffusion barrier alloy film of ReW on irregular surface.
8. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Narita et al. EP 1449937 anticipates Claims 1 and 2. Specifically, Narita teaches forming ReW sigma phase diffusion barrier coatings on high temperature apparatus metal substrates, wherein the coatings may further comprise Ni, Co, and/or Fe and wherein the relative amounts of Re and W are in the claimed ranges of Claims 1 and 2. See Narita et al. (Figure 1; Abstract; and paragraphs 11-30). Narita teaches that the coatings are applied by sputtering followed by heat treatment and that they may be applied by chemical deposition. The corresponding technical feature between Group I and each of Groups II-IV relates to the diffusion barrier alloy film of ReW, which as discussed above has been shown to be known in the art. Thus, there is no special corresponding technical feature among these claim groups. Likewise, the different plating and heat treatment, fused plating, and irregular surface deposition methods of Groups II-IV only share in common the formation of the ReW diffusion barrier alloy film, which has been shown to be known in the art. Thus, there is no special corresponding technical feature among any of the pairs of these groups either. Therefore, no single general inventive concept interrelates the claim groups, and so there is a lack of unity among the claim groups. Restriction is therefore appropriate.

9. Due to the complexity of the restriction requirement, a telephone call was not made to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement.
10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.
11. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
12. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
13. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

14. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
